

Kelly Dore

Executive Director

National Human Trafficking Survivor Coalition (Based in Colorado)

www.NHTSC.org

303-522-2955

Director@NHTSC.org

Kelly is a wife, mother of 4, owns a counseling practice, is a businesswoman, and a former Legislator from Colorado who has worked extensively in the field of Human Trafficking and uses her life experiences to create awareness, educate communities, track legislation and help create new laws to support victims of Human Trafficking. She has sat on many boards on State and National Levels and is heavily involved in educating lawmakers and raising money for various non-profits for Human Trafficking. In 2014, she was appointed to sit on the National Human Trafficking Board for Elected Officials has worked with both the Obama and Trump administrations and elected officials to help them understand the implications of familial Human Trafficking on a National Level. She has worked extensively on State and Federal Legislation to educate and advocate on behalf of minor victims for best policy. She is a survivor of familial trafficking from ages 1-14 and testified against her trafficker when she was 15.

Kelly recently formed the National Human Trafficking Survivor Coalition with other professional survivor leaders to help advocate, educate and raise awareness to the degree of Human Sex and Labor trafficking in Colorado and the Nation. Kelly is also the Legislative Liaison for United Against Slavery and is involved in helping to educate Congress and State Governors on the data surrounding human trafficking specific to their states. She is also an Ambassador for Shared Hope International and has written a familial trafficking Identification guide for medical professionals and educators. She does trainings on familial trafficking to law enforcement, medical professionals and educators, her passion is to help children thrive out of traumatic circumstances and live the lives they control.